Dawson PPD crews were able to restore power to over 600 homes as temperatures moderated, winds decreased and snow was cleared from roads this afternoon. At 5:00 p.m., about 400 remained without power in the Maxwell and Brady areas where crews continue to work.

“We want to thank everyone who cleared the roads and pulled our trucks out of the snow and mud. These were some tough conditions for our crews to work in,” said Marsha Banzhaf, Public Relations Coordinator.

At its peak, the District’s power outages affected 1,100 homes.
